Gosch were asked in 2008 to design a rear extension to replace an existing poor quality conservatory and extension, and additionally to remodel the ground and first floors.

The new works comprised of a large kitchen/dining/entertainment space, along with new utility spaces, at ground level, a new family bathroom and study at mezzanine level, and a new master bedroom suite at first floor level.

Approval was granted by The London Borough of Merton. Gosch were commissioned to design and build the project. Gosch were subsequently asked to redesign the rear garden, which will be planted in spring 2010.
